Addressing and Mitigating the Impacts of COVID-19 on the Construction Industry

For those involved in active construction projects, COVID-19 presents a host of potential issues that will need to be promptly addressed. Hinckley Allen continues to work closely with its clients to mitigate the impacts of COVID-19 on their businesses.

Join us for a discussion about the current regulations and how to manage and mitigate risk across:

- Workforce Reduction/Shelter-in-Place Orders
- COVID-19 Paid Sick Leave Legislation
- Labor & Employment Matters
- Safety Considerations
- Project Administration and Contract Rights
- Insurance Matters
